A Member of the State Bar, No. 177733.)

On July 9, 2018, respondent Jamilla Ann Moore (Respondent) filed a motion seeking relief from disciplinary costs or an extension of the time to pay the costs.¹ In her motion, Respondent also sought relief from the $100 fee for the payment of late registration dues² and for the court clerk to send a copy of her current motion and her May 29, 2018 motion to the Supreme Court with certain written notification to the court.³ The grounds for Respondent's motion were hardship and special circumstances.

The Office of Chief Trial Counsel of the State Bar of California (OCTC) filed an opposition to Respondent's motion on July 16, 2018. In its opposition, OCTC noted that respondent failed "to provide any supporting evidence of her medical or financial situation and ¹ Respondent sought for her next costs installment payment to be due on July 1, 2019.

² As the court does not have any jurisdiction with respect to membership dues and late fees, this request is denied attach the required financial statement declaration.”⁴ However, the proper financial declaration form was attached to Respondent’s motion.

³ The court also denies this request.

Therefore, after reviewing and considering Respondent’s motion and financial declaration, and OCTC’s opposition thereto, the court issues the following orders:

Respondent’s request for full relief from the payment of disciplinary costs is DENIED, no good cause having been shown. However, good cause having been shown, the court GRANTS an extension of time for Respondent to pay disciplinary costs. The court orders that Respondent’s time to pay the disciplinary costs associated with case No. 12-O-11820 be extended, and that one-fifth of said costs is to be paid with Respondent’s annual State Bar membership fees for the years 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023.⁵ The court further ORDERS that if Respondent fails to pay any installment of disciplinary costs within the time provided herein or as may be modified by the State Bar Court pursuant to Business and Professions Code section 6086.10, subdivision (c), the remaining balance of the costs is due and payable immediately unless relief has been granted under the Rules of Procedure of the State Bar of California (Rules Proc. of State Bar, rule 5.134). The payment of costs remains enforceable both as provided in Business and Professions Code section 6140.7 and as a money judgment.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Dated: July 19, 2018

Judge of the State Bar Court

⁵ Although Respondent sought for her next installment to be due July 1, 2019, the court finds it appropriate to make the installment due with her 2019 membership fees.
